We are uniquely qualified to guide your construction company in all areas of business.

As specialists in your industry, Burzenski & Company has developed a unique understanding of construction companies in the areas of business strategies, financial results review and industry benchmarking.

RALPH L. RICCIARDELLI, CPA

Ralph L. Ricciardelli, CPA, is a founding partner of Burzenski & Company. Since 1983, he has been instrumental in shaping and managing the firm. He manages the day-to-day operations of the firm as well as the firm's construction department.

He has an in-depth knowledge of the construction industry and the unique needs of construction and spearheads the company's accounting and financial efforts on behalf of that industry segment. He works closely with contractors and real estate professionals to compile financial information and provides a diverse range of services including:

- Job-costing and bonding analysis
- Review of operations and measure against industry standards
- Technology consulting for construction-specific software
- Structuring buy/sell agreements
- Preparation of business plans
- Lender presentations for building expansions or equipment purchases

His extensive experience includes individual, business and estate tax planning with an acute sensitivity to the personal needs and wishes of the firm's business and individual clients.

Mr. Ricciardelli speaks on various tax and financial topics and has authored numerous articles related to taxes and the construction industry.

He is a member of the Connecticut Society of Certified Public Accountants, American Institute of Certified Public Accounts, Construction Financial Management Association and Independent Electrical Contractors of New England.
